

Fossil fuels are described as non-renewable because one day they cannot be replaced.