

Diffraction occurs when a wave spreads out as it passes through a gap in a barrier or moves past an obstacle.