

The ionosphere does not reflect the VHF and UHF waves used for radio and TV broadcasts. The waves need to pass through a network of stations to homes throughout the country.