

When an electron is removed from an atom, a positive ion is formed because there are more.....