

It's possible for a neutron to break down to form a proton and an electron.