An object with a mass of 89kg falls from a height of 36m. The energy conversion that takes place is energy to kinetic energy.